

NOT ONLY THE HEATING VALUE COUNTS!

- Have you realized that it pays to introduce an energy management system for your business, as energy represents a significant cost factor that you want to systematically and continuously reduce?
- Your company takes sustainability seriously and is committed to the careful use of resources?
- Do you want to make permanent use of the statutory possibilities for reimbursement of electricity tax and / or EEG surcharge for your industrial activities and place the necessary documentation for implementing energy efficiency measures on a secure, systematic basis?
- Are you subject to the provisions of the Energy Services Act (EDLG) in Germany or the corresponding Energy Efficiency Directive for your European locations and have you decided to implement an energy management system in accordance with DIN EN ISO 50001?
- Are you looking for a certifying organization that understands your complex operational processes and knows all the technical background of your production processes and supply needs?

Then you either already have a certification-ready energy management system according to DIN EN ISO 50001 or you are about to build it up. You should contact us now!

OUR COMPETENCE – ISO 50001

We at Verico SCE (Societas Cooperativa Europaea), a European cooperative based in Langenbach near Munich, have a special organizational structure among all accredited testing organizations. Our members are freelancers and small companies from all over Germany as well as several EU countries. This means that we are actively represented in your area. Since we put together the auditors team of cooperative members and therefore also company owners, who are responsible for your certification, we guarantee you - as it were out of self-interest - an optimal handling of every order.

OUR COMPETENCE - YOUR BENEFIT

All members of the Verico SCE - i.e. our auditors - have decades of experience in the industry, as experts or appraisers.

The extensive technical competence of our experts allows, according to our approval, the certification of all types of industrial and non-industrial energy management systems. We understand what we are talking about when it comes to capturing the energy flows in a company (energy sources, energy use, energy consumers) and assessing the state of energy efficiency.

Use this expertise to put your system through its paces. Let us confirm the effectiveness of your investment in modern technology and procedures through our certificate.
